Old Schnucks closing National store now Schnucks'

Schnucks will move into its third building in Granite City this morning when it occupies the former National Supermarket, 3100 Madison Ave.

National closed its doors for good at 6 p.m. Sunday following a mad rush by buyers seeking bargains. Workers were in the process of taking inventory Monday.

The National closing and Schnucks move are the result of a Schnucks buyout of all 87 National stores — including the 50 in the St. Louis area and those in outstate Missouri and Illinois. Schnucks currently operates 64 stores, 50 of which are in metro St. Louis.

Schnucks officials cited the location of the former National building at the intersection of Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road — which National owned — as the reason for the move of about a half mile from 3401 Nameoki Road.

Schnucks was leasing the Nameoki Road store, located in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center, from a trust.

Granite City Economic Development Director Franz Krainitz said he thinks about 10 years remained on Schnucks' lease in the shopping center. He said he did not know if Schnucks would sub-lease the building or if it bought out the remaining term of the lease.

Schnucks spokeswoman Marie Casey said the company has not decided what to do with the building, but said it would not be a new grocery store.

"Community leaders have been asked for input, but we don't know right now," she said.

The Federal Trade Commission approved the National buyout Friday. Under the FTC's ruling, Schnucks will have to sell 24 stores — 18 National and

Fetus discovered at plant

By Bob Slate

Granite City police are investigating the discovery of a human fetus at the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant late Saturday night.

"We aren't closing the books on this one until we find out more," said Capt. Roy Koberna, chief of detectives.

The nine-inch long male fetus was discovered in a bar screen — a large grate that filters large objects from sewage — by a treatment plant employee just before 10 p.m. Saturday.

Madison County Coroner investigator Roger Smith said an autopsy was performed and authorities are awaiting the results of toxicology and microbiology

Claudia Kachigian with her three diplomas from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale — one each in law and medicine and a combined medical and law degree.

Doctor or lawyer? She's both

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Claudia Kachigian of Granite City always wanted to be a doctor, but along the way she also picked up a law degree.

Kachigian, 26, is the first student to graduate from a combined medical-legal program offered jointly by the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale schools of medicine and law.

She received her law degree from SIU School of Law during ceremonies in Carbondale on May 13, and her medical degree at the School of Medicine on May 20.

The daughter of Amerik and Nuvart Kachigian, she is a 1988 graduate of Granite City High School, and earned a bachelor's degree in biology at SIUE in 1989.

The six-year combined program was developed by Theodore LeBlang, chairman of the Medical Humanities department; and Eugene Basanta, a law professor at SIUC.

There are currently four other universities offering similar programs: Yale, Duke Stanford and the University of Illinois.

"There is a heightened level of interaction between law and medicine now," said Mark Raebler, assistant director of public affairs for SIUC's School of Medicine. "The people who developed this program felt for a

A tale of 2 freshmen: Davis, Bowles find different roles

The two freshmen Democratic lawmakers from the area had mixed results in their first session in the Republican-controlled Legislature.

State Rep. Steve Davis of Bethalto was shut out in the spring session.

Sen. Evelyn Bowles of Edwardsville sent a bill to the governor's desk.

The difference in their fortunes reflects the differences between the House and Senate.

Senators cooperate. Representatives bicker.

The Senate's style of reserved and polite debate is more like country club chatter.

House debate often sounds more like a rowdy group of fans at a sporting event.

"We're the essence of decorum," Bowles said of the Senate. "It's so quiet in the Senate as opposed to the House."

To Davis, a Democrat with little seniority in the highly partisan Republican-dominated House, the difference is all too obvious.

"I'm on the Republicans' target list because I am new and I won election by a slim margin," he said.

Davis saw all of his proposed bills linger and die this session.

He said Republicans pick on certain Democrats they feel can be defeated in the next election.

These representatives have a very difficult time getting anything accomplished.

Even the least controversial of Davis' proposals were killed, often without a vote being cast.

"It's been frustrating," Davis said. "I'm not crying sour grapes, I understand the process, but I represent 100,000 people and they do not have any input."

A measure to make it illegal to ride motorcycles or snowmobiles on a levee came the closest to being approved by the House.

After being folded into a Republican-sponsored bill and having Davis' name stripped entirely from it, the new bill died in the House when it wasn't called in time to meet a deadline.

Davis said he was told by Republicans who cosponsored the bill that he should remove his name or the bill would not be called.

Davis and other House Democrats say Republicans are not even giving their bills the courtesy of a hearing in committee.

Earlier, a group of freshmen House Democrats held a news conference offering legislation requiring that every bill introduced would get voted on in committee.

Ironically, this bill, like many other Democratic

Playground slowed

Opening pushed back from June 30

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Work on a $110,000 children's playground at Wilson Park is continuing, but recent wet weather has hampered construction, park district officials said.

Granite City Park District Director Dave Polivick said workers were now installing the playground equipment, but would probably not make the original June 30 deadline.

"I'm sure the rain is going to cause some delay," he said.

Actual equipment installation began last Thursday, he said.

"They've been doing site work and excavation, and now they're getting into the good part."

After work is finished at Wilson Park, new playground equipment will be installed at Worthen Park and Lincoln Place Community Center.

These three projects will cost an estimated $165,000.

Polivick said an additional $50,000 would be spent for playground equipment in outlying parks.

The new playground equipment will be paid for from a trust fund started when Granite City resident Earl Iberg left more than $300,000 for playground improvements.

The playground will be named after Iberg.

Miracle Recreation Equipment Co. of St. Louis is installing the new equipment.

"It will be spectacular," Polivick said of the new Wilson Park playground.

"It will be one of the largest, if not the largest, in the Midwest."

It is being built on top of HRAR the old playground site.

"It's going to be serving children from ages 2 to 12," Polivick said.

"There are going to be a lot of areas for handicapped and physically challenged children."

"I'm just hoping the doggone thing gets installed soon; I hate to be without the main playground," he added.

Polivick said the park district would probably have some kind of dedication ceremony when the playground is completed and opened to the public, but said he hasn't been able to work on that project yet.

Flag Day parade set for Saturday

The fifth annual Quad-City Flag Day parade will be held in Granite City starting at 5 p.m. Saturday, June 17.

This year's parade not only honors the American symbol and heritage, but also is a special dedication to all the men and women who served in World War II.

Congressman Jerry Costello will be the guest speaker at the Flag Day ceremony at the Greater Granite City Area War Memorial Park. It follows the parade.

The parade will start behind Granite City High School, go south down State Street to 27th Street, then south down Madison Avenue, concluding at the Memorial Park on 21st Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

The organizations co-sponsoring the parade are Disabled American Veterans Chapter 53 and Auxiliary, Granite City Elks Lodge 1063, American Legion Post 113 and Auxiliary, Tri-City Knights of Columbus of Granite City, Madison Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7451, AMVETS Post 204 and Auxiliary of Madison, Granite City Eagles 1126, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1300 and Auxiliary in Granite City, Quad-City AMVETS Post 51 and Auxiliary, Granite City Lions Club and the Fleet Reserve Association Greater St. Louis Branch 267.

Posters fail to yield fugitives

SPRINGFIELD — The first Top 20 wanted gang members poster has not yielded leads on two Madison County fugitives. The poster was unveiled nearly a month ago by the Illinois State Police, but only one of the 20 men featured on the poster has been arrested so far, State Police spokesman Mark McDonald said.

The list included Timothy L. McClain, 30, of Alton, who is wanted on charges of home invasion and aggravated assault in connection to an incident at a house in Alton.

Alton police say McClain is a member of the Gangster Disciples. He is accused of throwing an elderly woman to the floor during the incident.

The other Madison County resident on the poster is Walter Lee Butler, 45, who is wanted on two counts of aggravated battery with a firearm in the shooting of a man in the groin at a Collinsville house in August 1992. Police could not identify Butler's alleged gang ties.

"There haven't been any leads yet on those two guys," McDonald said of McClain and Butler. He said State Police were not aware of any tips from the public on the whereabouts of the fugitives featured on the poster.

JoJulien Hicks, wanted for armed robbery and aggravated discharge of a firearm, was arrested in Mount Vernon about two weeks ago. Mount Vernon police knew he was in the area, but he was the "helped alert them to the fact he was a gang-banger," McDonald said.

Twelve of those on the poster are wanted for murder, but one of them was murdered himself shortly before the poster was unveiled.

Federal budget effects Legal services threatened

Poor people will be cut off from the legal system if Republican budget-cutting plans go through, attorneys and civic leaders say.

Various budget-related bills being considered by Congress call for drastic cuts or elimination of Legal Services Corp., which operates on an annual budget of about $400 million.

Alton-based Land of Lincoln Legal Services receives about 80 percent of its $4 million annual budget from the Legal Services Corp., a federally funded assistance agency.

Ed Ragsdale, chairman of the Madison County Republican Party, said Legal Services is a good place for the federal government to reduce spending.

"There is a lot of mischief created by Legal Services," Ragsdale said. "They're often suing the government and they're suing to stop welfare reform. If there's anything that needs to be fixed, it's the welfare system."

"The government can't do everything, and if we don't want to leave our children and grandchildren with a massive debt, we've got to start cutting."

However, Land of Lincoln Board Chairman Russell Scott said eliminating Legal Services would leave poor people without a voice in the legal system.

"It's a very frightening prospect for me to think what would happen if poor people have the ability to work within the system taken away from them," Scott said. "There is nowhere else for these people to go."

Land of Lincoln provides legal services for qualifying people in 65 Illinois counties, the southern two-thirds of the state. The agency works on civil cases involving housing, consumer complaints, health and family issues.

Land of Lincoln filed a high-profile suit against the city of Alton in 1973 that resulted in the consent decree that established hiring quotas for black employees in the Police and Fire departments.

Land of Lincoln Executive Director Joe Bartylak worked with city officials to negotiate the settlement.

Legal assistance is a target in two major Republican budget proposals in Congress. One proposal calls for eliminating the national Legal Services Corp. entirely; the other would cut about 50 percent of the agency's budget.

Scott, a private attorney from Belleville, said a large cut would devastate Land of Lincoln.

"We have to be almost brutal now in the decisions we make as to who we represent," he said. "We estimate that only about 20 to 30 percent of the legal needs of the poor in this area are met."

Land of Lincoln employs a staff of 85, including 40 attorneys and 12 paralegals. To stretch the agency's budget, Bartylak said Land of Lincoln works with private attorneys in many counties to donate time or take cases for a reduced fee.

"We've enjoyed a lot of support from the private bar through pro bono services, and in the small rural counties we serve where there are only a handful of lawyers we work with attorneys and pay them 50 percent of the normal prevailing rate," Bartylak said.

Despite the private input, Land of Lincoln estimates that poor people in its service area have representation equal to about one attorney for 8,000 people, compared to a national average of one attorney per 502 people.

Ragsdale said he feels poor people could find attorneys to represent them in most cases. He said the government should provide legal help only on a very limited basis.

"Anybody can get a lawyer on a contingency basis," Ragsdale said. "We have an overabundance of lawyers in this country. I'm sure there are some legitimate services (Legal Services) provides, but they've always gone overboard."

Scott said he agrees there is a need to cut federal spending, but that Congress should look in other areas.

"Consider the price of the B-2 bomber," Scott said. "Cut out just one of those and you've got the entire budget for legal assistance."

Selph elected officer of group

Granite City Mayor Ron Selph was recently elected vice president of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors.

Selph's position with the council, a two-year post, automatically places him on the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's board.

"The council can be an excellent resource," Selph said.

FEMA scaling back staff here

'We have pretty much taken care of everybody'

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

The Federal Emergency Management Agency isn't leaving town yet but it is scaling back the staff manning its three disaster sites.

Starting Thursday, two locations — one each in Granite City and Caseyville — will have a representative from the Small Business Administration and from FEMA. Only the Clyde C. Jordan Center, 6755 State St. in East St. Louis will continue to be staffed by representatives from a number of federal and state disaster assistance programs.

"We have pretty much taken care of everybody," said Stephanie Alexander, a FEMA spokesman.

"Most people just prefer to (apply) over the telephone."

Sunday's numbers at the three centers attest to that. The East St. Louis site had 59 residents come in while Caseyville reported 10 and Granite City had only two.

Residents can apply for assistance by calling 1 (800) 462-9029 or 1 (800) 462-7585 for the speech or hearing impaired. Calling this number is the first step in applying for flood assistance and should be used only to apply, Alexander said.

Those who have already applied but have flood-related questions can call the helpline at 1 (800) 325-0321.

Both numbers are open daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Locally, FEMA has an office at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, 4950 Maryville Road.

The third location is at the Caseyville Fire

Department, 321 S. Main St.

All three sites are open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily.

By visiting any of the centers, residents can get information packets about the National Flood Insurance program and about hazard mitigation efforts.

"We have all sorts of wonderful things at the centers," Alexander said. "We're just trying to keep the essential services readily available."

"We will be here until we're no longer needed."

Alexander said that as of Monday, 735 Disaster Housing Assistance checks totaling $1.6 million had been mailed.

To date, 4,017 people have applied for flood assistance. Of those, 3,353 have some problem directly involving housing.

Farmer won't seek re-election to board

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

Belleville Area College Trustee Ted Farmer will not seek re-election when his term expires in November, he said last week.

Farmer, of Belleville, said the decision follows his campaign position that no politician should hold a seat for more than eight years.

Trustees D. Michael Bowen of O'Fallon and Nick Mance of Cahokia said they will seek re-election. Mance, who of Collinsville could not be reached for comment. The four positions are six-year terms.

"It would be improper for me to run even though I would love to," Farmer said.

Often in the minority on board and college issues, Farmer said he still feels he has accomplished many of the goals he set when he took office eight years ago.

He has refused all junkets and conventions other board members attended because he never felt they returned with reports that helped the college, and he wanted no tax increases unless the public was able to approve it first.

Farmer said he also tried to "clean up inequities in pay" but was unable to complete that goal.

"I had a long list of things I thought were improvement opportunities for the college and now the list is much shorter," he said. "I've made some enemies and some friends and I'll certainly miss being off the board."

Bowen has served on the board for years and feels there have been a number of college improvements during that time, especially the Industrial Training Center at the Granite City Campus.

"I think that was the highlight of my term because it's one of only a few in the region and it was done without a tax increase," he said.

Both the Granite City and Belleville campuses have had improvements, new structures are being approved by the state and taxes have remained stable, Bowen said. Although tuition has increased, it remains one of the lower ones in the state, he added.

Mance, who was appointed to the board two years ago, said it's still early, but he plans to run because things are going very smoothly at the college.

"I would like to continue to serve," he said.

Farmer said his decision to leave the board will open other political options for him. Although he is considering something now, he would not specify the position.

The turnover period for the four board seats is Aug. 21-28 and the election is Nov. 7. Nominating packets are available 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday from Shirley R. Headley, Belleville Area College, 2600 Carlyle Road, Belleville, Ill. 62221.

Class of '75 reunion slated

Reunion organizers are still looking for classmates that graduated from Granite City High School North and South in 1975. All 1975 GCHS graduates are invited to the class reunion July 22 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Granite City.

Assorted hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and jumbo shrimp, catered by Charlie's Restaurant, will be served. Beer and soda will be included in the price. A cash bar will be available, along with dancing, music and fun. Ticket price is $25 per person.

Please make checks payable to the Class of 1975 and mail to: (South Graduates) Class of 1975, P.O. Box 791, Granite City, Ill. 62040; or to: (North Graduates) Class of 1975, P.O. Box 14, Granite City, Ill. 62040. RSVP no later than June 30.

Due to reservation requirements and expenses, reservations must be purchased in advance. Monies are nonrefundable. Tickets will not be issued. Admittance will only be granted to those on the advanced reservation list.

tests before proceeding.

The fetus, which Smith estimated at about 18 weeks beyond conception, was in tact except that its head had been crushed, possibly by equipment at the treatment plant, according to a police report. A one and a half inch umbilical cord was still attached to the fetus and appeared to have been cut, the report states.

Terry Kelahan, treatment plant superintendent, said a cleaning machine rakes the grates of the bar screen every 15 minutes and could possibly have caused the head injury.

The coroner's office has investigated fetal deaths in the past, but never one discovered in the sewer system, Smith said.

Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said the Madison County State's Attorney's office will make a determination with regard to the criminal charges.

But, Koberna said, because the WWTP treats sewage from a number of communities as far away as Glen Carbon and East St. Louis, it will be next to impossible to determine where the fetus may have entered the sewer system.

"It could have happened in any number of communities," Koberna said.

•Stores

six Schnucks stores — to other grocers within a year. Schnucks must keep the stores open until they are sold to a buyer who would operate them as supermarkets.

Until those stores are purchased, Schnucks will own about 100 food stores in the St. Louis area, almost half of them former National supermarkets.

The Nameoki Village Schnucks store was slated to close at 10 p.m. Tuesday, according to Schnucks grocery manager Dan Eckert. Schnucks was scheduled to reopen at the Madison Avenue building at 7 a.m. today, Wednesday.

"There are going to be a few glitches, but it's going OK," he said.

"Things are going very well," Casey said. "Thousands of Schnucks and National employees are doing inventory right now, and tomorrow (Tuesday) Schnucks employees will be restocking and retagging everything."

In January, Schnucks estimated it would hire "more than half" of National's roughly 6,000 employees in the St. Louis area.

To date, Schnucks has hired more than 3,000 former National employees, or nearly 55 percent of 3,554 applicants from National, Casey said.

"With few exceptions, Schnucks is maintaining current wages and company-paid health benefits for newly hired National employees," she said.

At Granite City, out of 121 National employees, 93 applied for jobs at Schnucks. Of those, 79 were hired, according to figures supplied by Schnucks.

Dierbergs, a chain of 14 supermarkets in the St. Louis area, has hired about 300 National employees for full-time, permanent positions. Nick Torpena, president of Local 655, United Food and Commercial Workers, said.

Local 655's members staff grocery stores throughout the St. Louis area, including Dierbergs Family Markets, Schnucks and National stores.

Ed Caumant, vice president of UFCW Local 881 which represents Schnucks and National employees in Illinois, was unavailable.

The move to the Madison Avenue store marks the third Granite City location for Schnucks. Schnucks was initially located at the intersection of Nameoki and Pontoon roads in the building that currently is home to Big Lots. The store moved a block away to the Nameoki Village site in the mid 1980s.

Schnucks still holds the lease on the building that currently houses Big Lots and sub-leases to them.

Schnucks also had a store in Pontoon Beach in the 1970s.

National shoppers picked clean the produce, meat and selected other sections of the Madison Avenue store after 3 p.m. Sunday when prices were marked down. When the store officially closed at 6 p.m. Sunday, employees were stationed at the doors to keep additional shoppers from entering.

On Jan. 16, Schnucks announced it planned to purchase 60 National stores in Missouri and Illinois, plus the parent company's 29 stores in New Orleans. National is owned by Loblaw Companies Limited in Toronto.

In March, the FTC gave Schnuck Markets initial approval to buy National stores in St. Louis and New Orleans.

A week ago, Schnucks announced it had sold the Louisiana stores to Schwegmann's Giant Super Markets Inc., a New Orleans-based chain of 18 supermarkets.

Market analysts in Toronto and St. Louis have estimated that Schnucks will shell out between $300 million and $350 million to acquire National's U.S. assets. Schnucks has not disclosed the amount of the deal.

Schnucks is hiring 450 temporary, full-time workers to staff the 18 National stores it must sell, in addition to another 130 temporary full-time workers recently hired for those stores, Casey said.

Casey added that severance pay will be given to those National employees not hired.

Hill to attend National Young Leaders Conference

Josh Hill of Glen Carbon has been selected to attend the National Young Leaders Conference from June 18 through June 23 in Washington, D.C. He is the son of Phillip and Shelley Hill of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, and the grandson of Carol Hill and Ron and Joyce Corey, all of Granite City.

The National Young Leaders Conference is a unique leadership development program for high school students who have demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic merit. Josh, a junior at Metro-East Lutheran High School, will be among 350 outstanding national scholars attending the conference from across America.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today." Throughout the 11-day conference, Josh will interact with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program include welcoming remarks from the floor of the United States House of Representatives and a panel discussion with prominent journalists at the National Press Club.

Scholars will visit foreign embassies and receive policy briefings from senior government officials. Josh may also meet with his senators or representatives or an appointed member of their staff to discuss important issues facing Glen Carbon and the nation.

To complement these special meetings and briefings, Josh will participate in a number of leadership skill-building activities. In one activity, "If I Were President," students role-play the president, members of the cabinet and representatives from Capitol Hill who must respond to an international crisis involving Russia.

Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference is the "Model Congress" in which scholars assume the roles of United States representatives by debating, amending and voting on proposed legislation on welfare and presidential war powers.

The National Young Leaders Conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan education organization. Founded in 1985, the council is committed to "fostering and inspiring young people to achieve their full leadership potential."

More than 300 members of the United States Congress join this commitment as members of the council's Honorary Congressional Board of Advisers.

Services and burial were June 12 in Columbus.

Cornelius Wells

Cornelius R. Wells, 78, of Granite City, formerly of East St. Louis, died at 10:30 a.m. Monday, June 12, 1995, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, following a two-year illness. He was born Oct. 3, 1916, in Webb City, Mo., and had been a resident of Granite City for 21 years.

A switchman with Illinois Terminal Railroad for 29 years prior to his retirement in 1980, he was a member of the Moose Lodge 1561 in Edwardsville and U.T.U. Union 1405 and of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include one son, James Wells of Leadwood, Mo.; three stepsons, James L. Dobbs of Cahokia, Samuel P. Dobbs of Collinsville and Dion K. Dobbs of Granite City; two stepdaughters, Carolyn Green of Cahokia and Deborah Barnett of Collinsville; four brothers, Joseph, Richard, Paul and Jesse B. Wells, all of Leadwood; one sister, Amelia Sutton of Leadwood, Colo.; 17 grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Roberta F. (Harrington) Wells, whom he married in August of 1964 in East St. Louis, and who died April 11, 1994; one daughter, Beverly Ann Willis; his parents, James and Mary (Serin) Wells; and five brothers, Samuel E., James H., Otto D., Harvey and George Wells.

Visitation is from 4 to 9 p.m. today, Wednesday, June 14, at Boyer Funeral Home in Leadwood, where services will be at 1 p.m. Thursday, June 15. Burial will be in Leadwood Cemetery in Leadwood. Local arrangements were handled by Mercer Mortuary in Granite City.

Mattie Hollis

Mattie L. (Sealey) Hollis, 78, of Madison, formerly of Dyersburg, Tenn., died at 5:10 a.m. Saturday, June 10, 1995, at Birchwood Nursing Home in Belleville. She was born Jan. 5, 1917, in Holiday, Tenn., and had been a resident of Madison since 1940.

A homemaker, she was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include one daughter, Pauline Guentzel of Madison; two grandchildren, Debra Guentzel of Washington, D.C., and Danny Guentzel of Collinsville; and one great-grandchild.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Rayburn Hollis, who died Nov. 28, 1986; her parents, John and Louville (Whitson) Sealey; one brother, Sam Sealey; and one sister, Altha Brawley.

Services are at 10 a.m. today, Wednesday, at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave. in Madison, with the Rev. Elmer D. Hollis officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Memorial Estates in Glen Carbon.

Barbara Hiken

Barbara A. (Abraham) Hiken, 67, of Collinsville died at 5 p.m. Friday, June 9, 1995, at St. Mary's Health Center in Clayton, Mo. She was born June 11, 1927, in Sarasota, Fla.

A homemaker, she was a member of First United Presbyterian Church in Collinsville.

Survivors include her husband, Sidney "Sid" Hiken; one daughter, Kay Allison Burns of Collinsville; one brother, Larry Abraham of East Alton; one sister, Carol Fox of Austin, Texas; and one granddaughter.

She was preceded in death by one daughter, Kenley Ann Hiken; and her parents, Francis and Bettie (DeBow) Abraham.

Graveside services and burial were Tuesday in Sunset Hill Memorial Estates in Glen Carbon with the Rev. Dr. Lloyd Shaw officiating. Arrangements were handled by Allan and Cluifer Funeral Home in Collinsville.

Memorials are requested for First United Presbyterian Church or the Collinsville Humane Society.

SIUE in summer food program

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is participating in the summer Food Service Program.

Free meals will be made available to all children 18 years old and younger, as well as to people older than 18 who are enrolled in a state-approved educational program for the mentally or physically handicapped.

Meals are made available to all eligible participants without regard to race, color, national origin, handicap, sex or age. Any person who believes that he or she has been discriminated against in any USDA-related activity should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Meals will be provided from June 12 to Aug. 11. For more information, call Emmet Becker at 618-482-6909.

initiatives, died without ever getting a hearing or a vote. Republicans argue they are only doing to Democrats what was done to them for the past 12 years, when Democrats controlled the Legislature.

"I've heard a lot of whining from across the aisle about them not getting their bills called," Rep. Ron Stephens, R-Troy said. "As a minority member for four terms, I have gone through everything they are complaining about."

Some legislation from Bowles has seen the light of day, however.

A proposal sponsored by Bowles that would increase penalties for desecrating a cemetery was approved by both chambers and is awaiting action by the governor.

"I have had a good deal of success so far," Bowles said, adding that she, unlike Davis, is not in a district targeted by the Republicans.

"I have found Republicans to be amenable and cooperative," Bowles said. "They don't give in, but they'll listen."

She said that in stark contrast with the House, Senate Republicans are open to her ideas and those of other Democrats.

Rotter on dean's list

Erin M. Rotter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rotter of Granite City, has received recognition on the dean's list for the spring semester at Bradley University in Peoria.

To be eligible for the dean's list, a student must achieve a minimum 3.5 grade point average for the semester on a 4.0 scale.

Granite City native and opera stage star Erie Mills will be featured Wednesday and Thursday, June 28-29, when the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and The Muny present "An Evening of Operetta" at Forest Park.

The program, to begin at 8:15 each night at The Muny, is only the second time in history that the SSO and The Muny have collaborated on a performance.

Mills, a soprano, will portray the part of Valencienne from Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow" on the program. Other featured artists are Lee Merrill, Greg Federly and Nat Chandler.

In addition to selections from "The Merry Widow," the program includes Strauss's Overture to "Die Fledermaus," Herbert's "March of the Toys" from "Babes in Toyland," Bernstein's "Glitter and Be Gay" from "Candide" and Offenbach's Overture to "Orpheus in the Underworld."

Mills began her singing career in the chorus at The Muny and performed the role of Chava in "Fiddler on the Roof" in 1973. Since then, Mills has won acclaim throughout the U.S. and Europe.

Her credits include engagements at the Metropolitan Opera, Chicago Lyric Opera, New York City Opera, Houston Grand Opera, and with companies in Dallas, Cincinnati, Cleveland, San Francisco, Minnesota, Washington and Santa Fe, and with the National Arts Centre of Ottawa.

Mills is also featured on RCA's 1987 Grammy-winning recording of Bernstein's "Candide" and in the PBS "Live from Lincoln Center" television broadcast of the same show.

Tickets for the performances are $6 to $40 and are available at the Powell Hall box office, 314-584-1700, the Symphony Music School Ticket Center, all MetroTix outlets and at The Muny box office in Forest Park. Special rates are available for groups of 20 or more by calling 314-286-1153.

number of years that there was enough demand for it. They thought it would be good to have people who understood both sides." While in the program, Kachigian served on the editorial board of the SIU Law Journal and was a member of the American Medical Society and the Illinois State Medical Society.

"My friends think I'm crazy and an overachiever, but mainly think I'm crazy," Kachigian said.

"I had an interest in both law and medicine," she said. "There are doctors and lawyers in our family."

Kachigian had expected to go directly into medical school after graduating from SIUE, but didn't take her entrance exams in time. She learned about the joint program at Carbondale, and began legal studies.

After two years, she began her first year of medical school at Carbondale, and finished at Springfield.

"I didn't do both at the same time; it wasn't like I was managing anything. I just took it one day at a time," she said.

Kachigian said she does not know when or if she will take her bar exam. She was leaving this week to begin a combined internal medicine and psychiatry residency at the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia.

"My primary focus is medicine," she said. "Kachigian said her legal training will help in her medical career. "Everyone is practicing defensive medicine anyway. I'll just be more prepared," she said.

The legal training will also help her in working with medical associations, and could also be helpful if she decides to go into hospital administration or public health.

Team Olympians claim State Cup

Now there are five. With the EASC Team Olympians capturing the under-12 girls Illinois State Cup soccer championship June 4 in Rockford, that makes five teams from what is commonly called the Metro East to win a State Cup championship.

IN STATE CUP history, that's almost like man-bites-dog news. To say the least, northern Illinois teams have dominated the list of State Cup champions over the years.

Jack Baker, one of the nice guys in soccer, coached the Troy-based Team Olympians to the state title. Baker, 41, a tinsmith at Granite City Steel, shaped the squad, which has 17 girls from four area towns, into a state championship team in only two years. He is assisted by Ed Karpowicz of Troy.

"We had some girls on our team who were cut by other teams," said Baker, a native of Granite City and a resident of Troy since 1978.

Baker's team earned the State Cup championship by winning five games over a four-day period. The Team Olympians first beat the Park Ridge Blue Dolphins 8-0 on May 20 in Peoria. On May 21, they knocked the St. Charles Shockers — the under-10 state champions — by a 4-3 score, then topped Palatine 2-1 in a pair of games played in Winnetka. In the semifinal match June 3 in Rockford, Team Olympians blanked St. Charles Rowdies of Springfield 2-0 and then took the title June 4 by shutting out the Buffalo Grove Lynx 2-0, also in Rockford.

THE STATE championship culminated a number of years Baker has dedicated to the sport he loves. He said he learned the game from his daughters, Jackie and Jayne. He started coaching in rec ball with the legendary Andy Waite before coaching at the select level about nine years ago.

By winning the state title, the Team Olympians have earned a berth in the Region 2 (Midwest) tournament, which will be held June 24-26 in Blaine, Minn. Fourteen states, including Illinois, will be represented in the tournament. Baker said the team is accepting donations to help defray the cost of the trip to Minnesota. Those who want to contribute should call manager Karen Evans at 667-3254.

WHILE ALL OF his players contributed to the state championship, four were cited with special awards. They were sweeper Erin Gusewille (Edwardsville), who was named Most Valuable Player; marking back Laura Davidson (Edwardsville), Best Defensive Player; and forwards Kasey Stogsdill (Troy) and Christina Withers (Granite City), who shared the Best Offensive Player award.

Other team members from Troy are stopper Eva Karpowicz, goalie Hollie Phillips, halfbacks Erin Bayne and Stacey Evans, and defender midfielder Amanda Eddings. Other players from Granite City are defenders Dede Rosenberg and Leighann Worthen and forward Julie Whittington. Other players from Edwardsville are forwards Kari Schweitzer, Lindsay Shipley and Sarah Bright. The lone Belleville player on the team is Meghan Traggesser.

Midfielder Kate Hallander, a player who used to live in Troy, played on the team, but her family moved to Atlanta just prior to State Cup action.

Triples (3-1) top Troy 5-2

Kuehnel pitches Post 113 to third straight victory

By Garen Vartanian
Correspondent

For the fourth time in four games this season, Tri-City Post 113 received a strong performance out of its pitching staff Sunday.

This time it was Shain Kuehnel who was stingy on the mound for the Triplets (3-1), throwing a complete game, surrendering only five hits, walking just one, striking out five and giving up only one earned run. Kuehnel got the win and contributed heavily to Tri-City's 5-2 win over Troy (1-2) on a cold and wet Sunday night in Granite City.

IT WAS THE third straight win for Post 113, which lost 3-2 to Waterloo in its season opener June 6.

"Once again, we got another strong pitching performance," said manager Doug Winfield said. "Our pitchers are just throwing super."

Juniors fall to Edwardsville

After winning three of their first four games to begin the season, last week, the Junior Triplets cooled off Saturday with a 4-2 loss to Edwardsville Post 199.

Tri-City, coming off Friday night's 3-1 victory over Wood River, played without two starters and fell behind early after Edwardsville scored five runs in the third inning. Second baseman Steve Logan and third baseman Eric Edwards were both missing from the lineup.

"WE HAD ONE bad inning," Tri-City manager Chad Lignoul said. "The game was real sloppy. It was just a tough day. And Edwardsville has a quality team."

Clippers rained out

Two Mon-Clair Baseball League doubleheaders scheduled for the Granite City Clippers last weekend were postponed because of rain Saturday and Sunday.

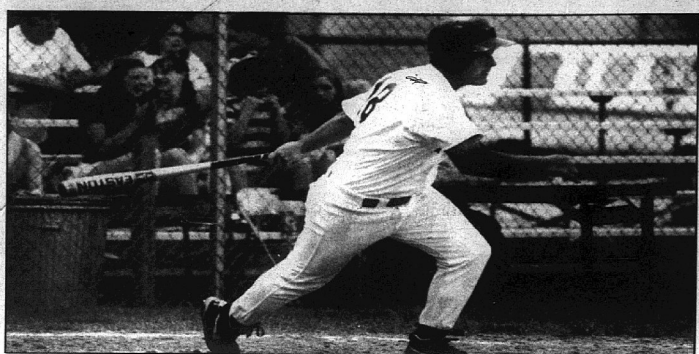

The Clippers, scheduled to visit Belleville last Saturday, were rained out and will make up the doubleheader at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Granite City's Sunday doubleheader at Edwardsville was also rained out.

No makeup date has been set for the two games with Edwardsville. On Sunday, Granite City is scheduled to host O'Fallon. The Clippers are 6-2 and in first place in the Mon-Clair North Division.

Kuehnel's outing did not start off so smooth, however. He gave up hits to No. 2 hitter Jim Hawkins and No. 4 hitter Chris Bingham in the opening inning.

Yet, Kuehnel, who also plays center field for Tri-City, wiggled out of the jam and settled down to pitch a gem.

Tri-City infielder Andy Roe follows through during Friday's game against Wood River. Roe had a double and two runs scored in Sunday's win over Troy.

OVER THE NEXT five innings, Kuehnel only allowed a hit to Travis Littken in the third and another hit to Langdon in the sixth before tiring slightly in the seventh.

In the fifth inning, while retiring the side in order, Kuehnel threw only one pitch called for a ball.

"(Kuehnel) just did a great job for us tonight," Winfield said. "He goes into the seventh with a shutout, which was super but he was getting a little tired."

After both teams failed to score over the first 1½ innings, Tri-City pushed across a run in the bottom of the second. Scott Nemeth led off with a hit against tough-luck loser Jeff Johnson.

Brad Ervey fanned, but Brian Lloyd picked him up by smacking a double off the 302-foot sign in left.

LOYD MOVED to third on a wild pitch, but the Triplets failed to score more due in large part to a great play from Troy catcher.

(See TRIPLETS, Page 3B)

Junior Triplets pitcher Dustin Brewer fires in last Friday's 3-1 victory over Wood River.

Eight recruits commit to BAC

Versatility and scoring punch are the main attributes of the eight recruits that Belleville Area College soccer coach Larry Petri has signed for the 1995 season.

"A lot of these kids are going to have to be versatile," Petri said. "We have a good number of freshmen back (for their sophomore seasons)."

AMONG THE INCOMING freshmen is Brian Stalets, an All-State player from Chatham Glenwood High School near Springfield. Stalets joins some good company at the midfield position, as BAC returns Jim Borah of Springfield and Mike Theis of Collinsville, both of whom were named All-Region last season.

"We're really happy to get Stalets," Petri said. "He's a good player. We can use him up top as a forward or as a midfielder. He's got good speed."

Stalets also plans to play baseball at BAC for coach Neil Fiala.

In addition to Borah and Theis, the third Dutchman to earn All-Region honors for the 1994 season was goalie Doug Curtner of Springfield Lanphier.

Hardy returns for his sophomore season, but he will be pushed for playing time by newcomers Brian Hardy of Lebanon and Greg Wiegert of Althoff High.

"AS A JUNIOR, Wiegert was the third-best goalie in the area," Petri said, adding that though Wiegert played sweeper back as a senior, he will be used solely as a goalie at BAC.

Another recruit from Belleville is midfielder forward Chris Traggesser of Belleville East. Among his high school honors were being named first-team all-area and the team's most valuable player. He played four years of varsity soccer for the Lancers.

His high school coach, Phil Aleman, said Traggesser should step right in and contribute a lot to BAC's success.

"Chris is very competitive. He hates to lose," Aleman said.

In addition to the midfield and forward positions Traggesser played in high school, he also will see (See BAC, Page 3B)

State title caps off Lancers' season

By Scott Marion
Staff writer

The dream of a state championship has become a reality for the eight seniors on the Belleville East softball team.

"We finally accomplished the goal we set for ourselves as freshmen," left fielder Missy Panek said after the Lancers beat the Moline Maroons 7-1 on Friday in the championship game of the Class AA state tournament at Mineral Springs Park in Pekin. "We knew what to expect this year. We were more ready for the pitching and the hitting. We earned it; we deserved it."

"WE HAD IT IN our hearts this year that we were not going to just show up and lose in the first round," said third baseman Lindsay Welter. "If you ask anybody who got second place at state, they don't know. But everyone knows who won. We showed we were the best."

East's first state title came in 1989, when pitcher Mikki McPherson pitched three consecutive shutouts. This time, though, the Lancers had to rally from a 2-0 deficit against Morton in the semifinals and battled back to beat the Potlows 6-4 in 10 innings after blowing a 4-2 lead in the bottom of the seventh.

"We stressed since the beginning of the season that there's no 'I' in 'team,'" said Lancers coach Rita Menke. "We had a lot of unselfish players, and the kids on the bench would cheer the other kids on. That made a big difference."

AT STATE, EAST got the big plays when it needed them, whether it was solid defense, a timely hit or the pitching of senior Stacy Siebert.

"You look around the field and everybody made some great defensive plays," Menke said. "(Natalie) Bennett and (Melanie) LaHae made some diving catches and Lindsay (Welter) made some good plays, too."

"(Senior catcher) Kristin Linde is an unsung hero. She gets dirty and grimy behind the plate and no one knows about her because she doesn't bat. But she didn't have one fielding error all season."

"You can't pick out one individual. People might look at Stacy because she was the pitcher. But if you ask her, she'll tell you about the defense behind her and our hitting. We didn't just hit the ball; we slapped and bunted and made things happen."

DUE TO CONCERNS about the weather, Friday's championship game was moved up to 6:45 p.m., with the third-place game played afterward. After beating Moline, the Lancers earned a brief rest while Moline beat Palos Heights Stags 3-0 in the second semifinal.

"We went back to the hotel (between games), so I took a cold shower and I felt better after that," Siebert said. "But that last game was just adrenaline."

Moline entered the final with a record of 22-12, the worst ever for a team in the championship game. But the Maroons weren't expected to be a contender after losing all but one starter from last year's state championship team.

"They were determined to get back to Pekin," said Robin Lindley-McConnell, Moline's first-er Chris Quick, who made a sliding catch on a foul pop to thwart a suicide squeeze.

Troy failed to score in the third, and Tri-City went right back to work in the bottom of the inning. After leadoff man

Mike Kalips was retired, Jason Wood reached on an error. Andy

Roe cracked a double, putting runners in scoring position.

Nemeth then delivered a sacrifice fly to make it 2-0.

Ervey followed with an infield hit, and Lloyd was hit by a pitch to load the bases. Bill Niepert then hit a bloop single to right, scoring Roe and Ervey and boosting Tri-City's cushion to 4-0.

The score stayed that way until the bottom of the fifth, when Roe reached base on an error and quickly stole second.

After Nemeth was retired, Ervey reached base on his second infield hit of the game.

Lloyd then produced a sacrifice fly that scored Roe on a very close play at home, making the score 5-0.

Kuehnelt continued to mow down the Troy hitters. He was nearly unhittable over the first six innings before Troy finally got to him in the seventh.

Kuehnelt retired the first batter of the inning before walking pinch hitter Doug Crittner. Johnson followed with a sharp hit, moving runners to second and third. Crittner came around to score Troy's first run of the night on an error, and Chad Woosley followed with a sacrifice fly to make it 5-2.

After a visit to the mound by

Winfield, Kuehnelt pumped it up a notch and struck out Litteken to end the game and preserve the victory.

"I told (Kuehnelt) that if he didn't get that guy (Litteken), I was going to bring him out," Winfield said. "But he wanted the complete game, and he really stepped it up."

Overall, Winfield said he was pleased with the performance of several individuals, and also with the all-around performance he received from the Triplets.

"(Niepert) had a big hit with the bases loaded and Lloyd hit one off the fence," Winfield said. "But all around, everyone contributed, and this is what we need to be successful. And give Troy credit, they never gave up and didn't make it easy on us. They hung in there close."

Winfield, however, still sees room for improvement from Tri-City.

"We need to tighten our defense a little and produce more offense," Winfield said. "These are the two big things we need to work on."

In Saturday night's action against Bethalto Post 214, Tri-City earned its second victory of the season with a 4-2 win. Mike Ahlvers pitched the first three innings for the win, and Justin Bettorf fired the final four innings to earn a save.

some action as a sweeperback for the Dutchmen, Petri said.

"HE'S GOT A deadly left foot," Petri said of Tracesser.

Petri is expecting solid defensive play out of recruit Paul Knetzer, a 6-1 fullback from Alton Marquette High School.

"He's a big, strong, powerful kid," Petri said. "I was looking for some depth on defense, and Paul fills that bill."

Among the other recruits for

Petri, who is assisted by Chad Lignoul, are:

Jay Bauer, a midfielder from Althoff; Matt Wilson, a fullback from Granite City High School; and Marty Bub, a midfielder from Collinsville High School who is transferring to BAC after playing one season at Columbia (Mo.) College.

Wilson

In addition to Borah, Theis and Curtner, other returning players for BAC are midfielder Jason Baldus of Collinsville; fullback Mike Hrasny of Belleville East; forward midfielder Kris Kell of Springfield Southeast; fullback James Prather of Springfield Sacred Heart-Griffin; midfielder Todd Reyling of Althoff; and midfielder Marc Thomas of Althoff.

year head coach. "They played with heart, but they just ran out of gas. But I'm just as proud as I can be of them."

"We played hard, but our defense was not sterling at times. (East) got a lot of hits in key positions. I thought we could hit their pitchers, but once they got four runs, we got flat and we got down. (The Lancers) were very solid; they didn't have a weak kid in the lineup."

MENKE, MEANWHILE, gave the credit for East's success to her coaching staff.

"People think Joe Nunez is just a pitching coach, but he works with everybody," Menke said. "He works so well mentally with those kids. Coach (Andrea) Rudanovich has helped us since last month when she finished up with the JV team. She's done a lot of one-on-one work with the kids."

"Coach (Fred) Harth has been here before (as head coach of Freeburg's unbeaten 1985 state champions). He works a lot with slaps and bunting."

"Coach (Jim) Reynolds has been with us four years. (Former coaches Dawn) Elser and (Bob) Yagge did a lot to help us. People don't realize how much coaches do behind the scenes."

Rain sidetracks fishing trip

Have you ever had one of those special moments, the kind that make you ask yourself "What am I doing here?"

Friend and fishing partner Bill Patterson and I had one of those a few weeks ago on Lake of the Ozarks. We were participating in the Police Olympics Bass Tournament. As predicted, the first day's start was delayed by thunderstorms, but the rest of the day was beautiful — too beautiful, hot and sunny. That's the kind of day when the fish don't bite well — at least for this old fisherman.

The second day also started with thunderstorms, but they seemed to pass through and it looked as though we would have a repeat of the first day. Wrong! Patterson, a retired sergeant from the Missouri Highway Patrol and now police chief of the City of Winchester, and I ran a short distance up the Grand Glaize Creek Arm of the big lake from our starting point at Temple's Resort. It still was gray and there were a few light show-

THE RASS were biting, mostly fish shorter than the 15-inch length limit imposed upon Lake of the Ozarks, but a few heavy keepers. However, catching fish is not the point.

The heavy rainstorm crashed through and the bass started to feel heavy when I tried to move it on the electric motor. I hit the big pump—the big pump. I hit the big pump—and nothing happened. I hadn't checked the battery.

Thank goodness for the superb coffee cups. We bailed the bass out, moved the motor, and used the lids to bail the battery boxes, but the cup worked well. The bass was now too big to be edged to move. We checked the batteries and hadn't picked up much more than a few more cranked up and headed down the lake. The livewells were full of bass. The bass were biting. (Bill's a four-pounder, mine a barely 15-inch). This added to

JUST AS we started running, it started raining hard. We got close to another spot we wanted to fish, but I made a mistake on the turn and ran aground. The boat dropped off plane as Bill asked "Is this fog rolling in on us?"

The answer, unfortunately, was no. It was an even heavier rain squall with wind kicking up to four or five knots. And the boat had picked up enough water to be heavy enough to get stuck in the kick of the 80-horsepower motor. It would not come back up on plane.

We wallowed through the waves. There was enough power to keep the boat moving, and I kept the bow pointed into the waves. In heavy waves, you need to try to run crosswise to the wind to keep the bow pointed. The rain was so heavy we barely could see shore about 100 yards

The thought crossed my mind that we might lose the boat and its contents. I was not in fear for our lives because we both had on top-quality life jackets and we were within sight of the shore. But I did not want to lose the boat or our tackle.

I STAYED WITH it, crabbing or angling just slightly toward shore as I kept the bow up and bucked the heavy waves. Finally, I spotted a little notch in the bluff that led into a little cove. I ran beyond it, staying headed into the waves. Once beyond the notch, I watched for a slight lull in the wind. These little lulls always occur, which gives you a few seconds of lessened waves.

In the lull, I quickly turned the heavy boat and ran with the wind, allowing it to push us into the cove.

In the cave, Patterson and I looked at one another with relief and broke out the big coffee cup and bread, the best I could do. We then cranked up the bat up on plane and since the bad squall now had passed us, we headed for the launching ramp.

Handling boats in rough water in storms or on rivers where current is a major factor takes a combination of knowledge and experience. Of course, the only way to get the experience is to get out there and do it. But get an experienced coach if at all possible.

Whether on the lake or river, go to shore if you aren't sure. Macho gets wet, loses equipment and sometimes drowns. Always go to shore if there is lightning. On that flat water, you're the highest thing around and that's not good.

The bottom line — be careful out there!

The bottom line — be careful out there!

Tri-City pitcher Chris Fiala took the loss after earning a save in Friday's win over Wood River.

"He pitched all right," Lignoul said. "He didn't have his best stuff."

Saturday's game was the first of two straight against Edwardsville. On Monday, the Junior Triplets (3-2) were scheduled to visit Post 199. Tri-City's next game is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday at home against Breese.

Brimm named All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Stacey Brimm has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Brimm, who attends Granite City High School, was nominated for this national award by Amy Hildebrande and will appear in the All-American Scholar yearbook, which is published nationally.

Lake Elementary holds talent show

Lake Elementary School held its annual talent show Friday May 12, in the school gymnasium. There were 16 student performances in the show.

Those who performed individually or in a group were: Bobbi Lam, Tim Aubuchon, Kristie Simpson, Tiffany Stone, Kristin Hayden, Jennifer Kreech, Holly Valente, Tyshia Walton, Jessica Dodson, Christina Holman, April Hagopian, Kathy Griffith, Nathan Griffith, Mike Howland, Chadman Wilson, Amanda Boone, Jamie Pine, Katy Williams, Ashlee Connolly, Malarie Parker, David Holloway, Jacob Baker, Jennifer Colter, Drew Arbogast and John Crawford.

Casey Krakowiecki, learning center teacher, and Lisa Smith, reading teacher, hosted the event. The show opened with special entertainment provided by Amy and Chrissy Krakowiecki, who sang and played guitar to "Puff the Magic Dragon." During intermission, they performed the songs "Country Road" and "Five Hundred Miles."

First place in the primary division (K-3 grades) was Kristin Hayden, who sang the song "Party." In the intermediate division (4-6 grades), David Holloway won a lip sync to the song "Standing Outside." Second place in the primary division went to Malarie Parker for singing "Dear, Mr. Jesus," and in the intermediate division, second place went to Mike Howland for dancing to "C & C Music Factory."

First-place winners received a first-place ribbon and $20 each; second place received a ribbon and $10 each. All others who participated received a special green ribbon for participation.

Special thanks went to:

Teachers judges, Betty Supp, kindergarten; Lou Hollis, third grade; and Judith Collins and Victoria Boyd, fifth grades. Student judges, who were Billy Webb and Kelly Edwards, sixth grade students. The sound system engineers, Jim McGuire and Scott Belcher, and the prize donors, who was the Lake School Parent-Teacher Association.

Getting ready for Easter — Colonial Care Center residents pitched in to make 62 Easter baskets. The baskets were then donated to the Salvation Army to be given to needy children during Easter.

Venice American Legion Post 307 hosts Memorial Day service

A Memorial Day service was held on the front lawn of Venice-Madison Post 307 American Legion in Venice on May 29. Approximately 100 persons attended.

A display of colors was presented by the Post 307 Color Guard, Madison AMVETS Post 204 and Auxiliary, Granite City AMVETS Post 51, and Auxiliary and Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary 53. Prayers were given by LaVera

Johnson, chaplain of Unit 307. Gold Star Sisters present were Darnalee Peach, Doris Martin and Mildred Walker.

The junior group of Unit 307 presented a flag folding ceremony. Participating were Jenna Miller, Megan Miller, Kaleigh Peery, Chelsey Peery, Caitly Moreland, Melissa Allen, Laura Martin and Carrie Baker. Seniors participating from Unit 307 were Debbie Miller and Dorothy Hinson, narrator.

Wreaths were placed before the crosses of the unknowns of World War I; World War II; Korean War; Vietnam War; Panama, Lebanon and Grenada Conflicts and Desert Storm War. Wreaths were also placed before the cross for the Prisoners of War and Missing in Action of all conflicts, the Kennedy Memorial and the Past Commanders Memorial.

Those participating in the placing of wreaths were Venice-Madison Unit 307, American Legion Auxiliary, Madison AMVETS Post 204 and Auxiliary, Granite City AMVETS Post 51 and Auxiliary and the United States World War II Submarine Veterans and Auxiliary.

A salute to the dead was given by Venice-Madison Post 307 Color Guard. Following this, the flag of the United States was raised to the top by John Hillmer, Post 307 past commander, as Tape was played.

Appropriate poems and a short speech was given by the mistress of ceremonies, Dorothy Hinson, past department president of Illinois American Legion Association. Present for the ceremony was Madison Mayor John Belicoff, who is a member of Venice-Madison Post 307.

Post 307 Color Guard members participating were Gary Swift, Louis Martin Jr., Rick Barnhart and Andy Motrusic.

DeeDee Koelker of Venice assisted with the public address system.

Preceding the ceremony, coffee and doughnuts were served by the auxiliary of Post 307 in the post home.

Put Your Hands In Mine

Hand injuries can be painful and may involve the loss of function. Early examination and diagnosis, as well as a complete treatment plan may relieve pain and can restore hand function. Arthritis, degenerative processes, nerve problems and overuse syndromes, as well as fractures and sprains are among the things that can cause pain and discomfort in the upper extremities - hand, wrist, shoulder and elbow. Belleville Orthopedic Surgeons, in cooperation with Memorial Hospital, can help you put a finger on your pain with its HAND/UPPER EXTREMITY SERVICE.

Services include:
Examination by Harvey L. Miry, M.D., a fellowship-trained orthopedic hand surgeon. Also may include x-rays and physical therapy as well as other ancillary services such as social service and nursing.

Fees:
Fees are charged according to services received. Belleville Orthopedic Surgeons is a Medicare provider and insurance billing will be handled for you by the BOS staff.

Date, Time, Place:
Friday, June 16, 1995
1 to 3 p.m.

Horoscope

Wednesday, June 14
Be slow to judge the intentions of others. Double-check to be sure that you did indeed hear what you think you heard when taking new instructions or listening to opinions of others - erroneous reports abound in news and gossip.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Details matter much to you now, but don't forget to smile at co-workers, loved ones and the sales clerks who help you find exactly what you seek. You'll return an item that doesn't work out after all.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Romance is exciting, but you need to feel the security of having independent means. Thrift is the quickest way to freedom.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Settling down has its advantages and disadvantages. Wait a little longer, and you'll get a green light for some of those ideas and projects that seem to have been pending forever!

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Signals get crossed in one-to-one endeavors - untangle 'em next week. Give yourself a chance to get closer to a new co-worker or neighbor. Catch up on the latest with siblings - some of it may concern you.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Legal matters come up soon - be sure of details on the paperwork. You have a chance to take control at work - make diplomatic suggestions to superiors. Go along for the sake of harmony with ideas of your mate, however.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 14). Longtime loyalties are key this year. Trust an issue in a partnership is settled by the end of the summer - but avoid a legal commitment until October. You come out way ahead in buying or selling properties in November. Study in December to learn more about investing and conducting smart finance. Your health is better than ever in '96.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Change your routine enough so that the tedium is relieved. Your family needs more than your devotion and dependability - they need your belief and confidence in their individual abilities, too!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). A feeling of largesse spurs you to invite some cohorts to an evening soiree this weekend - include a fascinating newcomer in the bunch so you can get a closer look at the romantic possibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Your judgment regarding financial investments is excellent - provided you have all the data. Jobs you apply for this week will be favorably responded to next week. The classifieds can be good sources of information.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Co-workers need your input - but stay out of the way when it's their turn to shine. Get the heavy stuff done early - ask for advice from mentors or your boss. Following through is the key to luck and advancement.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Wear warm, earthy tones, and use humor in public relations. New information and technically oriented friends are sources of relevant, practical ideas. The big picture is as important as the details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). An outstanding debt can be a big stumbling block to furthering credit, so clear it up now. Pet projects stand a good chance of success - others are excited about what you're doing and sign up to help.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). A youngster may be testing you. Tiding your home helps you think and plan clearly and makes you ready for unexpected visits from out-of-town family. Forgive an old emotional injury, and feel free.

Alexis Nolan won queen in all phases of the competition, including first place in dress and sportswear modeling.

Competes in state pageant

Nine-month-old Alexis Nolan competed in the American Dream Kids state pageant held in Chicago April 21-23. She won queen in all phases of the competition, including first place in dress and sportswear modeling, photogenic, portfolio, western and swim wear, best personality, best dressed and cover girl. Alexis received perfect scores in the western wear, swim wear and portfolio competitions.

Crowned supreme queen of the pageant, she won a six-foot trophy, gifts, crown, savings bond and scepter. She also won overall best dressed for the entire pageant, winning a four-foot trophy, crown and gifts.

Alexis was named cover girl and her picture appeared on the cover of the state program book. She won a seven-foot trophy, crown, scepter and gifts.

Alexis will be competing in Kentucky in September at the National American Dream Kids pageant.

She is the daughter of Benny and Rhonda Nolan of Granite City and the granddaughter of Chester and Reta Vest and Benny and Olivia Nolan, all of Granite City. She is the youngest member of Glitter Girls Modeling and Dance Studio and is instructed by her mother, Rhonda Vest-Nolan.

WOOD RIVER TOWNSHIP HOSPITAL COMMUNITY REPORT

Kids Health and Safety Fair will offer fun for families

SATURDAY, JUNE 17TH
10 A.M. TO 2 P.M.

WOOD RIVER TOWNSHIP HOSPITAL

101 E. EDWARDSVILLE RD.

Wood River Township Hospital, KDNL Channel 30 and Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids are teaming up to host the first annual Kids Health and Safety Fair at the Hospital on Saturday, June 17th from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Fox Television's popular cartoon character EEK! The Cat will appear in person. Also, Channel 30's meteorologist Steve Jerve will bring out the station's Weather Center and, for only $1, videotape area children giving a real weather forecast. The Weather Center will be open from noon to 2 p.m.

As a special treat, the first 4,000 children at the event will receive either a free X-Men or a free Power Rangers poster courtesy of Channel 30 and Wood River Township Hospital.

In addition, the Fair will include entertainment, free activities, and discounts for health screenings.

Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids will offer free immunizations to qualified children three years of age and younger provided they bring along their immunization records.

The event is free and parking is available at the Hospital at 101 E. Edwardsville Rd. and at the Healthy Moms/Healthy Kids office across the street from the Hospital.

New Hospital board members upbeat about future

Expressing optimism for the future for Wood River Township Hospital, three new members of the Hospital Board of Directors were sworn in at the May meeting.

All three members bring impressive backgrounds to their new roles on the Board. They are:

● Margie Edel, a nursing educator at Saint Louis University, Edel and her husband have lived in this area since 1967. Her husband is retired from Wood River High School and now owns Edel Coins in downtown Wood River. At the meeting, she said, "This Hospital has a real purpose for the community. I think the Hospital is on the right track."

● Ken Miller, superintendent of schools in Madison, IL. Miller spent 14 years in the Roxana school system as a high school principal and then as an assistant superintendent before taking the job of superintendent in Madison last year. He will return in the fall to the Roxana school system as an assistant superintendent. After the meeting, he said, "My only real purpose is to see that the Hospital continues to be an effective resource for the community."

● Peggy Rucker, a registered nurse and a former hospital administrator. Rucker served as the director of nursing at Lutheran Hospital in Moline before she and her husband Dennis moved here last year when he was named the superintendent of schools in Bethalto.

The three will join current Board members Jan Fassler, Terri Hayden, George Machino and Brad Pulaski.

Long-time board member Dale Brueggeman had served on the board for 19 years, including five years as chairman of the board. Brueggeman was honored at the May meeting for his many years of service and dedication to the Hospital.

In other business at the May meeting, Brad Pulaski was named chairperson of the board for a second year and Jan Fassler was named vice-chairperson.

Bulbs fail to bloom? Here are some causes and solutions from the experts at

FRANK'S®

Did you plant some tulip bulbs last fall, anticipating the enjoyment of their brilliant beauty this spring? Do you feel that you missed out on it because they didn't bloom properly? If so, there are several reasons why.

Naturally, it's a bit late to do anything about it now, but in some cases we can keep it from happening again next year. Many times the weather's at fault, but there are other reasons. Here are the most likely causes of bulb failure.

Were the bulbs in good shape when they were planted? If not, the likely culprit is disease. Bulbs are susceptible to several fungal diseases which can damage them to the point of no return. Infected bulbs often fail to emerge or may send up weak flower stalks without flowers. Check the area where the bulbs were planted to see if this was the case. Next time you plant, dust the bulbs with a labeled fungicide as they go into the ground.

Ground too soggy? The bulbs won't do too well in poorly-drained locations. Again, this makes them more susceptible to all sorts of disease problems. Try planting the bulbs in an area that drains a bit better.

It's possible for bulbs to be frozen out. Normally that's more of a concern for gardeners in northern climates than it is for this area, but when it comes to weather, some bizarre events can unfold. In December of 1989, central Florida experienced highs in the thirties, snow flurries and icy roads. Snow fell in Washington, D.C. on April 8, 1985, the day after Easter. So bulb freezing, although unlikely, cannot be totally disregarded.

Another major reason for bulbs not coming up is that they weren't there. Sure, you planted them, but the bulb thieves may have paid a visit. Squirrels and several other rodents are the usual culprits. Bulbs are considered feasting material for them. About the only way to stop them is to put hardware cloth over the planting in the fall, forcing the animals to look for their meals elsewhere. You could try feeding the squirrels yourself, but there's no guarantee they'll leave the bulbs alone.

Tomatoes and Peppers

Have you ever been faced with tomato or pepper plants with a healthy crop of leaves, but nothing else? There are reasons for that, too.

Here's one that may come as a surprise. You fed them too well. Sounds strange, but it's possible. Although all plants need nitrogen, it's easy to give them too much. Nitrogen promotes lush, leafy green growth, sometimes at the expense of making the fruit they were supposed to. Plant foods specially formulated for gardens are best. We recommend Frank's Tomato and Vegetable Food.

Perhaps the weather wasn't right for pollination. Flowers need to be pollinated to make fruits and vegetables. This is usually accomplished by bees and other insects. If the weather has been too wet, cold or windy, these insects may decide to stay home rather than go flower-hopping. The result is a disappointed gardener.

Here's something you have some control over. Be sure to water the plants well before fertilizing. Putting plant food on a dry plant can cause burn on the leaves and roots.

College news

Southeast Missouri State
University has named 1,223 students to its Dean's List for academic achievement during the spring 1995 semester.

Students named to the list earned at least a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale and completed at least 12 degree credit hours during the spring session.

Local students include:
Edwardsville — Danna Ely
Fairview Heights — Victoria Weissert
Freeburg — Tanya Koerber,
Rebecca Varel and Melissa Winterbauer.
Granite City — Damon Yates.

University of Evansville.
Kelly Kessler, Granite City recently completed her degree program at the University of Evansville. She is the daughter of Monte and Donna Kessler of Granite City.
The University of Evansville is an independent co-educational, United Methodist Church-affiliated institution located in southwestern Indiana.

Illinois College
Todd D. Pryor of Granite City received a bachelor of arts in political science and history from Illinois College at its commencement exercises held May 21 in Jacksonville.
He is the son of James and Peggy Pryor.

Illinois College's 161st annual commencement service featured an address by Paula P. Brownlee, president of the Association of American Colleges and Universities.
The liberal arts college awarded honorary degrees to Dr. Brownlee and to retired business executive Richard Yates Rowe Jr., a descendant of the college's first graduate.

Illinois College was the site in 1835 of the first college commencement ceremony in the state.

Indiana University
John Van Buskirk of Granite City recently received a bachelor of arts degree at Indiana University.

Birch Bayh, former U.S. Senator from Indiana, was speaker at the 188th commencement of the Indiana University Bloomington campus on May 6.

The junior, who received his law degree from IU, received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Organization

Venice-Madison Unit 307 American Legion Auxiliary met June 5 at the Post 307 home in Venice. The junior members were the hostess group, who served lunch to 21 seniors.

A short business meeting was held by Kate Buschle, president. A report was made on the annual poppy distribution.

Ellen Wallace was awarded a first-place winner in the 22nd District poppy centerpiece contest. This will be entered in the state competition in July.

Unit 307 wishes to say "thank you" to all who donated for poppies. These monies are used for party refreshments and gifts for the hospitalized veterans.

A thank you note was received from Pam Bracken, recreation director at the Anna Veterans Home, for the bingo party and refreshments held in April.

The drawing was held on Memorial Day for the VA and R trips to the Marion Veterans Administration and Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy. This will allow the members to have the two bus trips next fall.

Installation of officers is being planned for Saturday, July 22. A new chaplain was elected at the June meeting. Pauline Mersinger will be chaplain for the year 1995-96.

Norma Hillmer, membership chairman, reported doing well with the collection of 1996 dues before the increase on July 15. These will be taken to the department convention in July for presentation at the annual installation of officers for 1995-96.

Bingo games will be held at Colonnades on June 15. Bingo games were held at Colonial Haven on June 8.

The attendance prize was won by Betty Wallace. Two gifts won at the district meeting were won by Betty Allen, who won a stuffed bear, and Bette Nugent, who won a serving dish.

The junior members presented three short comedy skits and sang two songs. This was followed with bingo for quarters.

Junior members present were Melissa Allen, Laura Martin, Jenna Miller and Megan Miller. All members were presented with a poppy corsage made by the girls.

There will be no meeting in July for the senior auxiliary. The next meeting will be the installation held July 22. The first regular meeting of the year will be held Monday, Aug. 7.

If you like honey mustard barbecue sauce but haven't found one that quite fits your flavor agenda, try making your own. Start with 1 bottle (10.5 ounces — about 1 cup) mild prepared mustard, 1/2 cup barbecue sauce, 1/4 cup honey and 2 tablespoons finely minced onion, then vary to taste. Use on the side or brush on chicken, pork chops or seafood. Makes about 2 cups.

Fresh Picks

If expensive lettuce teaches one lesson, it is that 'salad' is more than one green. Now that it is coming back, look at different varieties to assess their nuances with other flavors. Always look for whole, crispy, shiny leaves. To keep it fresh, refrigerate properly and use it as soon as possible after purchase. Store lettuce unwashed in tightly closed plastic bags in the crisper drawer. Use in three to four days. Just before using, separate leaves, wash, then spin or towel dry. Thin leaves, like those of red and green leaf and butter lettuces, should be torn. Others can withstand cutting with a stainless steel knife.

Big Fat Tip

For a garlic sauce over cooked pasta (8 ounces uncooked), process 1 cup hot water, 2 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon sweet pepper flakes, 1 teaspoon leaf basil, 1 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon and 3 cloves garlic in a food processor or blender until smooth. Mix in salt and pepper to taste.

Future Shop

Like prenuptial agreements, co-branding is exploding in foods. In Europe and Mexico, Nestle Cheerios combines experts in cereal technology and an established distribution system. Other products here, like a brownie mix using chocolate syrup, have a well-known product as an ingredient. The goal is to get the consumer's attention. With thousands of new products shelved every year, two well-known names may attract a shopper's eye better and provide twice the incentive for buying a product.

MAKE MY DAY

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

On Father's Day, dad cannot live on his barbecue alone. From early in the day to late at night, add little surprises that show he is special.

Does he want pie for breakfast? Bake and cool a single refrigerated pastry crust or use a ready-to-fill graham cracker crust. Layer with vanilla pudding and bananas, then refrigerate. Top with whipped topping for his very own banana cream pie. For a patriotic effect, switch the fruit to strawberries and blueberries.

Maybe tortilla pie is more to his liking. Layer vegetables, cheese and meat between corn tortillas, then bake until the pie is heated through and the cheese melts.

Does he crave pizza to hold him until dinner? Make it the easy way "with pizzazz" on toasted English muffins. For a different hand-held snack, mix chopped pepperoni, shredded mozzarella cheese and a little pizza sauce. Place in flattened biscuit circles or pizza dough cut in rectangles. Fold over to form a closed pocket, sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese and bake until done through and brown on the edges.

These recipes call for cooked pork, which can be left from barbecuing or roasting if desired, and Jarlsberg cheese. The pork can be replaced with other cooked meat, from Canadian bacon — a delicious, lower-fat alternative in All-American Egg Rolls — to chicken or ground beef. Norwegian

Private Label Test Run

Need biscuits, pancakes, waffles or coffee cake in a hurry? Always Save Biscuit and baking mix rides to the rescue.

Multi-purpose mix makes cake, waffles

Mixes for pancakes and cakes are popular with seasoned cooks, as well as those who do their cooking when an occasion or person demands it, so Always Save Biscuit and baking mix from Price Chopper was a shoo-in for testing with its promise of being "all-purpose."

A tester followed directions on the 40-ounce package for coffee cake. "The only problem — and that word is used tongue-in-cheek — was that it rose so well in a slightly smaller pan that it dribbled a little over one side," she said.

The recipe calls for using a 9-inch round layer cake pan, but she used an 8-inch pan.

No one needed a second invitation for tasting the attractive coffee cake. It rose in mounds with a topping of baking mix, brown sugar, cinnamon and margarine adding eye appeal on top. It received favorable comments from everyone.

"I like its homemade-from-scratch texture," a veteran baker said. "I like this kind of texture. The coarseness makes it more like homemade. It's good." "Very fluffy and light" was how another taster described its texture. "It's not a heavy coffee cake at all," he said.

The cost for Always Save is 99 cents, while another well-known baking mix costs $1.39 and the most familiar national brand — with a similar recipe on its box — costs about $2.49.

A regular user of the most expensive brand said, "The cake itself had good texture and its flavor compared very favorably to that brand. I would buy this."

Another added, "The coffee cake was very good — moist and full but not heavy. The topping was tasty, too. I made this cake from a more expensive mix many years ago and I remember it tasting like this."

One taster recently had bought the most expensive brand to make shortcakes to serve with fresh strawberries.

"I bet I could have gotten this and it would have been just as good," she said.

A few testers who do not use the mixes regularly said they detected a slightly "salty" taste. The Always Save brand is similar to other brands in sodium.

The person who baked the coffee cake suggested adding a middle layer of sliced apple for extra moistness, variety and as a complement to the topping.

In a separate testing, the mix was used for waffles. The taster said the waffles cooked quickly.

Heart-y Bites

Hot peppers pack it in a pod

My friend Marcus has a motto: The hotter, the better. Nearly everything he cooks contains some type of chile pepper. Fat and sodium-free, chiles bring fiery flavor to Southwestern, Asian, Cajun, African, Mexican, Indian and European foods.

Chiles vary in their intensity to bring tears to a person's eyes. Generally, the darker green, smaller and pointier the pod, the hotter it is.

Heat comes from capsaicin, a substance in the seeds and veins of the pepper. Capsaicin can burn the eyes and avoid touching these areas when handling chiles.

A recent study claims capsaicin in chiles can raise human metabolism. The increase was small, however, so it will be a chilly day in Mexico before eating chiles replaces other sensible foods or exercise.

Look for firm, unblemished fresh chile peppers. Serranos are small, thin, bright green and very hot. Jalapenos pack a punch, too, in their dark green, short, stubby bodies.

Poblanos are green-black and 6 inches long. Roasting them mellows their intense heat. Anaheim or New Mexico chiles are long, thin, pale green and mild in heat.

Dried peppers are sweeter and less hot than fresh. Select pliable unbroken ones and store them in a cool dry place.

Ancho peppers — actually dried poblanos — are deep red with a sweet, fruity taste. Soak them, then puree to add depth to sauces and soups.

Passillas are long, black and medium-hot.

Chipotle peppers are dried, smoked jalapenos. Mild, sweet, smoky, spicy and fruity at one time — they add intrigue and dimension to sauces, stews and other dishes.

Marcus gets a tip of the sombrero for his easy Spicy Lime Chicken. He garnishes it with lime wedges and cilantro. Served with black bean and rice salad and cornbread and strawberry frozen yogurt for dessert, his menu is not only heart-healthy, but festive and fiery enough to serve a casa full of banditos.

Registered dietitian Terri Edelstein is a member of the nutrition committee of the American Heart Association, St. Louis Chapter.

MARCUS SPICY LIME CHICKEN

2 tbs. finely diced fresh poblano chile or 1 tsp. minced jalapeno

1 tbs. fresh lime juice
1 tsp. grated lime peel
1 tbs. oil
2 tbs. orange juice
2 tsp. honey
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 tsp. salt
1 (4 oz. each) boned, skinned chicken breasts
Chopped fresh cilantro and lime slices

In medium bowl, combine chile, lime juice and peel, oil, orange juice, honey, garlic and salt.

In shallow baking dish, pour juice mixture over chicken. Cover. Refrigerate overnight.

Preheat oven to 450°. Drain chicken. Wrap each piece in foil. Place on baking sheet. Bake in preheated oven 15 minutes. Remove from oven. Let sit 10 minutes.

In saucepan, boil marinade several minutes.

Slice chicken. Fan on plates.

Chocolate, almond liqueur team up for winning flavor

If you want to win a cooking contest, enter it with a chocolate-Amaretto dish and invite me to judge it. Recipes with those ingredients score high with me.

I admitted being a chocolate before the first microwave ovens became popular. Because they only cooked on high power, chocolate was tricky to melt or cook as hot spots easily burned this delicate food.

With this love for chocolate, I've had lots of practice on updated models. Chocolate melts best at medium (50 percent) power. It should be stirred frequently because chocolate does not look melted when it actually is. This also prevents hot spots that cause scorching. Do not leave the spoon in the chocolate between stirrings because heat that builds up on the spoon also can cause scorching.

Cheap imitation chocolate often contains paraffin or wax which is invisible to the microwaves. To get it to melt, shortening or butter must be added, which dilutes the taste. Good-quality chocolate tastes better and gives better results.

If the room temperature is hot, chocolate is too soft to work with and wants to stay melted. If it is too cool, it hardens quickly. Temperature is the variable when speeding up or slowing down a project with chocolate.

A small amount of Amaretto — an almond liqueur — adds cherry-like almond flavor. Cooking lets the alcohol evaporate but leaves the wonderful flavor.

This cheesecake is not an everyday dish. I save it for special occasions.

Home economist Kathy Hanewinkel specializes in microwave cooking.

SWIRLED AMARETTO AND CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs (20 to 25) and 2 tbs. sugar, or 1 1/2 to 2 cups chocolate sandwich cookie crumbs (about 30 Oreo-type cookies)
2 pkg. (8 oz. each) cream cheese
2/3 cup plus 2 tbs. sugar
3 eggs

1 carton (8 oz.) sour cream
1 tsp. vanilla
2 tbs. cocoa
3 tbs. almond liqueur (such as Amaretto)

In 8-inch round glass baking dish or microwave spring pan, microwave butter 30 seconds on high power until melted. Stir in crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar. Press in bottom and slightly up side of pan. Microwave 30 seconds on high power to set, turning pan after 15 seconds.

Microwave cream cheese 60 to 90 seconds on high power to soften. Beat until creamy and smooth. Add 2/3 cup sugar, then eggs one at a time, mixing after each addition. Add sour cream and vanilla. Blend well.

Pour half the cheese mixture (about 2 cups) into crust.

Add cocoa, 2 tablespoons sugar and liqueur to remaining mixture. Carefully pour and swirl it into vanilla mixture like a marble cake.

Microwave at medium (50 percent) power, covered with waxed paper, 15 to 18 minutes, rotating dish twice. Center should be almost set. Cool.

Sugar essential to healthy body

Sugar has been blamed for many things, including heart disease, cancer and diabetes. In reality, sugar — consumed in moderation — provides essential fuel for the body.

A member of the carbohydrate family, sugar can be found in many healthy food choices, including fruits, vegetables and milk.

Certainly, excess sugar consumption can be unhealthy and lead to weight gain, but overly-sugary foods often are laced with fat and calories, and fat is usually the culprit in weight gain.

Foods commonly considered "sweets" that contain a significant amount of fat include ice cream, doughnuts, cookies, candy bars, pies and cakes. Fat can damage the heart.

Contrary to common opinion as well, excessive sugar does not cause diabetes. People with diabetes must pay special attention to the types and amounts of sugars they eat.

SAVORY GRILLED PORK STEAKS

3 pork steaks, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
1 tbs. brown sugar
1 to 2 tsp. curry powder
1/4 cup soy sauce

1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 small onion, chopped

In small saucepan, mix together brown sugar and curry powder. Gradually stir in soy sauce, tomato sauce and onion until combined. Bring to boil. Reduce heat. Cook slowly 5 minutes. Cool. Place pork in plastic bag or baking dish. Add mari-nade, turning steaks to coat. Tie bag securely or cover dish. Marinate in refrigerator 4 hours or overnight. Drain, reserving marinade. Grill over low to medium coals 30 to 40 minutes until done, brushing with marinade and turning occasionally. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

My Day

The delight of the all-American sandwiches is they can be prepared, wrapped and refrigerated for heating whenever hunger strikes. If using olive oil, do not overdo the amount, because it can overpower other flavors.

ALL-AMERICAN EGG ROLLS

6 large (or 12 small) whole wheat rolls
2 to 3 tsp. extra light olive oil
1/2 cup minced onion
1 cup (3 oz.) chopped fresh

mushrooms
1 cup diced cooked pork
4 eggs, beaten
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded regular or smoked Jarlsberg cheese
Chopped green onion or chives, if desired

Cut tops off rolls and scoop out inside, leaving 1/4-inch shell. Reserve crumbs for other use.

Over high heat, saute onion and mushrooms in oil 2 minutes. Add pork. Sauté 1 minute. Add egg. Cook and stir until mixture is no longer runny.

In bowl, toss mixture with cheese. Spoon into rolls. Replace tops. Wrap with aluminum foil. Refrigerate overnight or until breakfast.

Preheat oven to 400°. Unwrap tops of rolls so they crisp. Bake in preheated oven 8 to 10 minutes until heated through and cheese is melted. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ZESTY LAYERED TORTILLA PIE

9 (6 inch) corn tortillas
1/4 cup olive oil
2 cups chopped, crisp, cooked vegetables, such as broccoli and corn, or 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen mixed vegetables, thawed, drained
1 can (4 oz.) diced green chiles
1 cup chunky marinara sauce
1 1/2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Jarlsberg cheese

Preheat oven to 425°. Brush both sides of tortillas with some of the oil. In single layer on cookie sheet, bake them in preheated oven 4 minutes.

Brush 9-inch pie plate with remaining oil. Arrange 4 tortillas, overlapping, on plate. Mix vegetables and chiles with marinara sauce. Place half the mixture on top of tortillas.

Mix cheese and pork. Layer half the mixture on top of vegetables. Cover with 3 tortillas, keeping edges within pie plate. Layer remaining vegetables, then meat mixture on top. Top with remaining tortillas, halved if desired. Tent with foil, crimping around rim to hold in steam. Reduce oven temperature to 400°. Bake on middle rack 35 to 40 minutes until pie is heated through and cheese is melted.

Slide out of pie plate onto cutting board. With sharp, heavy or serrated knife, cut in 6 to 8 wedges. Serve immediately.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MINI PIZZAS WITH PIZZAZZ

2 to 3 tsp. olive oil
1/2 cup diced onion
1/2 cup diced green bell pepper
2 to 3 tsp. Italian seasoning
2 cups (8 oz.) thinly sliced or diced cooked pork

2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Jarlsberg cheese
1 1/2 cups (10 to 12 pieces) quartered cherry tomatoes
8 English muffins, halved, toasted

Preheat conventional or toaster oven to 350°.

Over medium-high heat, saute onion and green pepper in oil 3 minutes. Add Italian seasoning and pork. Cook 1 minute.

In bowl, toss cheese with tomatoes.

Using 1/2-cup measure, mound scant 1/2 cup mixture on each muffin half. On baking sheet, bake in preheated oven 6 to 8 minutes until melted.

Tip: Mixture can be made ahead and refrigerated. Increase baking time to 8 to 10 minutes.

Cool, crunchy slaw appeals to summer's non-cooks

By CYNTHIA FAUSER

Dump-and-mix, no-cook recipes are always popular, especially when everyone wants to move quickly through the kitchen and into the fun of summer.

Not always must convenience mean sacrificing control over ingredients like fat. Reduced-calorie dressings help cut fat calories, as well as save time.

My new slaw recipe, featuring a slimmed-down bottled dressing, fits the bill for easy fixin' and tasty eatin'. It features prebagged cabbage, broccoli slaw or a blend of the two, plus reduced-calorie vinegar and oil dressing. Toasted almonds, sunflower seeds and uncooked ramen noodles give it a novel crunch.

Similar recipes that use packaged ramen noodle mixes, nuts and seeds are a handy change of pace. Unfortunately, one cup each of nuts and seeds for eight to 10 servings adds about 140 calories per serving, primarily from fat. Many slaws already have so much fat in them some nutritionists classify them as a "fat" more than a "vegetable" serving. The solution is a simple remodeling of a popular recipe.

Cutting the amount of almonds and sunflower seeds in half saves nearly 100 calories per serving. Reduced-calorie vinegar and oil dressing has 45 percent less fat than the original. So the sugar dissolves well, I stir it into the dressing, then add it to the salad ingredients. Diabetics can substitute a sweetener for the sugar.

The color of the dish has a pink tinge because most bottled vinegar and oil dressings use red wine vinegar, but the color is acceptable, especially if broccoli slaw mix is included along with shredded cabbage.

Registered dietitian Cynthia Fauser is nutrition specialist for University Extension (University of Missouri system) in St. Louis County.

COOL AND CRUNCHY SLAW

- 1 bag (1 lb.) shredded cabbage, broccoli slaw or combination of green onions, chopped (optional)

- 1 pkg. ramen noodles, discarding seasoning packet
1/2 cup sliced almonds, toasted
1/2 cup salted, roasted sunflower seeds
1 1/2 cups reduced-fat vinegar and oil dressing (not Italian)
1/2 cup sugar

Toast almonds in dry skillet, stirring frequently, about 5 minutes or until lightly brown.

Before opening bag of noodles, crunch by hand to separate. Mix cabbage, onion, nuts, seeds and noodles.

Stir sugar into dressing well. Toss with cabbage mixture. Refrigerate, covered, several hours to blend flavors.

Grill-inspired gifts turn kabobs into savory fare

Meat may be the mainstay of many patio meals, but seafood is growing as an offering from the grill.

For centuries, kabobs have been traditional outdoor cooking fare throughout the countries of the Mediterranean. Shish kabobs of Morocco, souvlaki of Greece and spiedini of Italy are favorites. Skewers themselves can be simple and utilitarian or decorative metal works of art with scrolled ends emblazoned to identify their maker.

When looking for a helpful gift for the grill for a couple to be married or for Dad or Uncle Al, a set of long metal kabob skewers is pointedly perfect.

Short of a trip to the Mediterranean, other gifts for the grill can encourage other gustatory delights. Suggestions include:

- A wide array of covered charcoal cookers, convenient gas grills and smokers that fit every need and price range. They range from portable little units for picnics to permanent outdoor kitchens for the serious grilling enthusiast. A quality covered charcoal or gas grill offers versatility and usefulness all year long.

- Sturdy, long-handled utensils, including tongs and spatula. Skip the fork, because it lets cooking juices escape. A rack is useful, too.

- Long thick mitts that protect a cook's arms from the grill's heat.

- A large instant-reading thermometer to test for doneness of large pieces of meat or poultry.

- A supply of flavorful wood chips, such as hickory, mesquite, applewood or maple.

- Cookbooks. Wish-Bone kitchen professionals recommend Melanie Barnard's "Low-Fat Grilling" (Harper Perennial) and "Best Covered and Kettle Grills Cookbook Ever" (Harper Collins Publishers).

Tuna Nicoise Kabobs takes its inspiration from the classic fish of southern France. It includes grilled tuna and red potatoes. Green beans and tomatoes along with little black olives indigenous to the region are all dressed with them in a lively herbal vinaigrette.

To simplify the dish, the vinaigrette is bottled Italian salad dressing flavored with fresh rosemary. Tuna chunks — jumbo shrimp another time — are marinated, then threaded on skewers with parboiled red potatoes and thick pieces of scallion.

The grilled kabobs are served on a bed of romaine lettuce and garnished with the traditional tomatoes and olives. Steamed green beans and a French baguette round out this easy supper. To take it to elegance, add lemon meringue pie for dessert.

To send for a free copy of Wish-Bone's "Quick and Easy Marinating and Grilling Cookbook," write to: Wish-Bone Quick and Easy Recipes, P.O. Box 1100, Grand Rapids, Minn. 55745-1100. Allow 4 to 6 weeks for delivery.

TUNA NICOISE KABOBS

1 lb. small red potatoes, scrubbed
8 thick scallions (1 bunch), trimmed to leave 2 inches of green part
8 fresh rosemary branches, if desired
1 head romaine lettuce, separated in leaves
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Nicoise or other good-quality black olives
2 plum tomatoes, cut in wedges

In cup, combine salad dressing and rosemary.

In shallow dish, pour $\frac{1}{2}$ cup dressing over tuna. Stir to coat. Refrigerate up to 2 hours.

Cook potatoes in pot of boiling water about 8 minutes until barely fork-tender. Drain.

Add warm potatoes to dish with tuna, turning to coat with marinade.

About 15 minutes before cooking, add scallion to tuna and potatoes, turning to coat with marinade.

Drizzle scallion, tuna and potato on 4 long metal skewers, beginning and ending with scallion and alternating tuna and potato in center.

Dampen rosemary branches in cold water, then toss onto medium coals. Grill kabobs or broil on greased rack 6 inches from heat, turning once or twice, about 10 minutes until tuna is no longer pink, potato is tender and scallion is browned.

Serve kabobs on bed of romaine. Drizzle with reserved Italian dressing.

SPINACH ANTIPASTO SALAD

1 can (6 oz.) marinated artichoke hearts, drained, reserving marinade
1 lb. fresh spinach, trimmed, torn in bite-size pieces (about 6 cups)
6 oz. sliced provolone cheese, cut in 2 inch strips
4 oz. sliced Genoa or hard salami
4 oz. sliced pepperoni
1 medium red bell pepper, thinly sliced
1 small red onion, thinly sliced, separated in rings
1 zucchini, cut in very thin strips
Basil Antipasto Dressing

Cut artichoke hearts in pieces.

To serve, layer spinach, artichoke hearts, cheese, salami, pepperoni, red pepper, onion and zucchini attractively on serving platter.

Drizzle Basil Antipasto Dressing over salad. Serve immediately.

Basil Antipasto Dressing: In jar, combine reserved artichoke marinade, 6 tablespoons olive oil, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup snipped fresh parsley, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup balsamic vinegar, 1 tablespoon snipped fresh oregano and 2 cloves garlic, minced. Cover tightly. Shake vigorously.

Makes 6 servings; 436 calories, 18 g protein, 11 g carbohydrate, 37 g fat, 48 mg cholesterol and 1,105 mg sodium each.

Good Health

By MELANIE POLK

Chicken crosses road to get to popular side

Chicken, long a best-seller in the supermarket meat department, really has taken off in popularity in recent years. Per capita consumption climbed from 29 pounds a year in 1960 to 72 pounds last year.

Chicken breasts are quick and easy to use, and the white meat is lower in fat than dark-meat pieces like drumsticks and thighs.

Whether chicken breast is prepared at the store or at home, be sure all the skin and as much visible fat as possible is removed before cooking.

To guard against the risk of salmonella, chicken should be cooked to an internal temperature of 180°. A properly-cooked chicken breast will be white throughout with no traces of pink and the juices will run clear golden rather than red when pricked with a knife point.

For those whose cooking is dictated by time constraints, skinned and boned chicken breast is a timesaver. It cooks in 10 minutes or less at medium-high heat conventionally, even faster in a microwave oven.

Chicken is a staple in cuisines all over the globe. Mixing it with grains, fruits and vegetables keeps portions moderate, as recommended by the American Institute for Cancer Research. Pair chicken with white beans and pesto for a delicious Italian soup, with apricots and couscous for a steamy Moroccan casserole, or with baby corn, green onions and red bell pepper in Chinese stir-fry.

Chicken breast is delicious hot off the grill or cold in salad. Grilled lemon tarragon chicken is delicious with a simple pasta salad and steamed asparagus. Grill chicken breasts coated with a mixture of 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 clove garlic (chopped), ¼ cup olive oil, 2 tablespoons minced fresh (1½ teaspoons dried) tarragon, with salt and freshly ground pepper to taste.

For an elegant touch and delicious flavor, add artichokes to chicken salad and serve at a summer luncheon or for a light supper. To replace frozen artichokes with fresh, simply remove all leaves and stems and steam the remaining hearts 20 to 25 minutes until tender. Serve this salad with whole-grain rolls or muffins and the meal is complete.

Registered dietitian Melanie Polk is director of nutrition education for the American Institute for Cancer Research in Washington.

1 pkg. (9 oz.) frozen artichoke hearts
¼ cup low-fat mayonnaise
2 tbsp. skim milk
1 tbsp. cider vinegar
2 tsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. prepared mustard
¼ tsp. sugar
1/8 tsp. ground red pepper
1 jar (4 oz.) chopped pimiento, drained
¾ cup chopped celery

In skillet or Dutch oven, bring chicken with 2 inches water in pan to boil. Reduce heat to low. Simmer, covered, 25 to 30 minutes until done, when juices run clear when deeply pierced with fork. Cool.

While chicken cooks, prepare artichoke hearts according to package directions. Drain. In small bowl, using a fork, beat mayonnaise, milk, vinegar, lemon juice, mustard, sugar and red pepper. When chicken is cool, remove bones and cut in bite-size pieces. In large bowl, toss gently with artichoke, pimiento, celery and dressing.

Seafood, shell pasta make winning salad

Mrs. Tie Brenneman, Webster Groves, is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Sea Shore Salad. For it she wins a prize of dinner certificates at the Pasta House Co.

This has an assortment of ingredients — avocado, peas, cucumber — all tied together with pasta and crabmeat. It is a special occasion treat with a dressing easily flavored with ketchup and Worcestershire sauce.

Recipes in the CPP — Cherry, Peach and Plum Recipe Contest will be accepted through June 30 for consideration as winner each of the four weeks in July.

Send one recipe per household to: CPP Salad Recipe Contest, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131. The shared recipes will welcome fresh fruits of summer — cherries, peaches, plums — in their many sweet, delicious forms.

Type or print the recipe legibly on one side of the paper. Include name, address and telephone number on the entry. Name the Journal you receive. Be sure to double-check the recipe as it is written for both amounts and directions, including any variations that make this dish special.

If there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. Along with taste and eye appeal, it will be part of the basis for selecting winners. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the source of the recipe.

Winners are notified by mail. Duplicate entries will be considered on the basis of earlier entry or best compliance with the rules. Contest winners may enter again six months after their

SEA SHORE SALAD

- 1 head iceberg lettuce, torn in bite-size pieces
- 1 cucumber, chopped
- 2 cups peas, uncooked if frozen
- 2 cups shell pasta, cooked
- 1 cup diced avocado
- 1 cup flaked crabmeat
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup ketchup
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- Salt and pepper

Mix together pasta, lettuce, cucumber, peas, avocado and crabmeat. Refrigerate. Slowly blend cream and mayonnaise. Add ketchup and Worcestershire sauce. Salt and pepper to taste. Chill.

Recipe

TUNA FRITTATA

- 2 fresh tomatoes, diced
- 1 zucchini, diced
- 1/2 onion, minced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- Small pinch oregano
- Pinch dried basil
- Pinch thyme
- 4 medium egg whites
- 1 medium egg yolk
- 1 can (6 oz.) tuna in canola oil, drained, reserving oil

In medium frying pan, sauté tomato, onion, zucchini and garlic in 2 teaspoons reserved oil about 5 minutes. Reduce heat.

Drain half the remaining oil and pour it, along with the tuna, into frying pan. Stir gently.

Beat egg whites and yolk about 30 seconds. Mix with vegetables in frying pan. Spread contents in pan evenly. Sprinkle with oregano, basil and thyme. Cook over low heat about 5 minutes, shaking pan occasionally to loosen frittata from pan.

When frittata looks firm and evenly puffed, cut in wedges to serve immediately. For attractive presentation, place serving plate over frittata and flip to serve toasty-side up.

Makes 3 servings, 165 calories and 96 mg cholesterol each.

Fresh Picks

Salad impressions green beyond tip of the iceberg

With the variety of salad greens available, salads take on new personalities.

Greens ranging in flavor from spicy to mild and in texture from tender to crisp open up multiple possibilities. Colors and shapes enter into the experience, too.

Pick and keep greens fresh. Choose those that are crisp and shiny and pass by any wilted or dull in color. Greens refrigerated unwashed in tightly closed plastic bags should be used as soon as possible after purchase.

Just before serving, remove any limp or discolored leaves, then separate the leaves, wash and spin dry. Radicchio, romaine, iceberg, watercress and endive lettuce are firm enough to be cut with a stainless steel knife, but thinner leaves, such as red and green leaf and butter lettuces, are better torn.

Among 25 or 30 types of salad greens, here are six widely available — and once again becoming more economical — that blend well with a myriad of other greens, fruits and vegetables:

Green or red leaf lettuce has a mild flavor, smooth texture and relatively delicate leaves. These versatile greens go well with more crisp and slightly bitter greens, such as endive or radicchio. They stand up to hearty vinaigrette or a light creamy type dressing.

Butter lettuce, also known as Boston, is a delicate, light green, fading to soft yellow inside. Leaves are slightly curly and smooth. Excellent for lining salad platters, it combines well with watercress and endive as well as tangy fruits, including canned pineapple and orange sections. A classic mate is poppy seed dressing.

Radicchio looks like a small crimson-red and pearly-white cabbage. It takes a little familiarity to enjoy its slightly bitter, peppery, flavor and sturdy texture. It goes well with robust dressings and ingredients, such as balsamic vinaigrette and feta cheese.

Curly Endive is loose and lacy on the outside, with green-tipped curly outer leaves, and a compact heart. Leaves have a flavorful "bite" and combine well with butter lettuce, red or green leaf lettuces and a medley of ingredients, including oranges, chopped dates and toasted nuts.

Watercress, a member of the mustard family, has an appealing, peppery snap to it. Its small, round, dark green leaves with stems are refreshing with butter lettuce, escarole and red and green leaf lettuces. Try it with a raspberry vinaigrette and a sprinkling of crumbled goat cheese, or chopped and added to a favorite sandwich.

Escarole — in the endive family — is slightly bitter in taste. It also adds texture to lettuce blends and goes well with red or green leaf lettuce. Try it in seafood salad with a creamy dressing.

CITRUS GREEN SALAD

1 can (20 oz.) pineapple

chunks, drained, reserving ¼ cup juice

- 3 cups packed torn green or red leaf lettuce
- 1 cup packed torn radicchio or escarole
- 1 cup packed torn curly endive or watercress
- 1 tsp. grated orange peel
- 1 orange, peeled, halved, sliced
- ½ cup halved, sliced red onion
- 1 cup chopped nuts, toasted
- ½ cup crumbled feta cheese
- 2 tsp. oil
- 2 tsp. balsamic or red wine vinegar

In large serving bowl, combine pineapple, leaf lettuce, radicchio, endive, sliced orange, onion, nuts and cheese.

In small bowl, stir together reserved juice, orange peel, oil and vinegar.

The May meeting of Church Women United was held at Central Christian Church on May 25 with Helen Stumpe presiding.

Ola Jones gave the devotion from a book called "Prayer Talks." Reports were given by those attending the state assembly, concerning violence, abuse of children and revitalization of Church Women United, at Our Lady of the Snows Shrine in Belleville on May 19.

Muriel Kratz from Granite City was elected area chairperson for the Southwestern District of the state of Illinois.

A report was also given from those who attended the women's inter-faith conference at the new mosque in Ballwin, Mo.

Members at the meeting viewed the video on the boycott of grapes in California and learned that many of the pesticides used may cause cancer and severe disfigurement of newborn children.

Church Women United's project of tutoring adults will have a training session on June 17 at Belleville Area College in Belleville. Tutors are very much needed. Any interested person may call Lena Seitzer at 452-2306 for more information.

On Sept. 8 and 9, a retreat at the King's House in Belleville is being planned for the purpose of inviting young women to learn of Church Women United's goals. This will be a restful, quiet weekend for relaxation and contemplation. For more information, contact Doris Edwards, chairperson, at 2616 Center St. in Granite City.

It was also reported that more than $6,000 was collected at the Granite City Crop Walk on April 30.

The nominating committee reported the following slate for 1996: Helen Todoroff, president; Millie Clements, vice president; Dorothy Kinney, secretary; Joyce Bennington, treasurer, and chairwoman Doris Votaw, Jean Hileman and Louise Anderson, nominating committee.

The next meeting will be held at 10 a.m. June 22 at Central Christian Church.
